Working Agenda

- 8:45 Event registration open & networking
- 9:30 Welcome from GCVA & BVCNL - Plenary Suite
- 9:40 Setting the Scene – Why are we discussing risk, fraud-mitigation and financial integrity right now?
- 9:55 What’s happening as we speak?
Examples of fraud and risk across the sector, from the shopfloor to the B2B platform.
- 10:35 Don’t Panic! Working Together on Media Strategy
Join GCVA’s PR Pro Steve Leigh as he shares insights for companies on how to react to a media inquiry, develop strategy for influencing negative stories to positive, and why it’s essential to work in unison with others and trade associations to flip the narrative.
Speaker: Steve Leigh, PRAgencyOne
- 10:50 Morning break & Networking - Lobby
- 11:30 Interpersonal Fraud: The Illusion and Reality
Join expert Dr. Elisabeth Carter as she uncovers the linguistic tactics of interpersonal fraud. She will reveal how fraudsters manipulate language to empower victims, disguise financial requests, and exploit changing contexts for repeated extortion. Learn about their use of gift cards, hybrid fraud strategies, and the fine line between credibility and coercion. Dr. Carter will also examine the shortcomings of current protection measures and share practical insights to enhance fraud prevention and public guidance.
Speaker: Dr Elisabeth Carter, Kingston University
- 12:15 Looming Regulation: Lessons from Abroad, and how we can prepare for a different outcome
Recent legislative missteps in the United States have created unintended consequences for our sector, and consumers interaction with gift cards. This session brings together leading legal and regulatory experts to dissect these developments, examine their impact, and explore proactive strategies to ensure Europe avoids similar pitfalls. With looming regulation on the horizon, we’ll discuss how global collaboration, early intervention, and coordinated advocacy can shape effective policies that protect both industry and consumers.
- 12:45 Lunch & Networking - Restaurant & Lobby
